

The Health and Safety of Great Britain

\\ Be part of the solution

Last year, 229 people were killed at work, thousands more died of work-related illnesses and 137,000 injuries were reported. The Health and Safety Executive has launched a new strategy which will guide and inform efforts to reduce the numbers of people killed or injured at work or those affected by work-related illnesses. While much has been achieved in the last three decades, there is more to be done and it can only be achieved by working in partnership.

We, the undersigned:

\\ Agree to play our part in reducing the numbers of work-related deaths, injuries and ill-health in Great Britain.

\\ Call on employers to put health and safety at the heart of what they do and to take a common-sense approach to health and safety.

\\ Commit to debunking myths around health and safety that trivialise the impact of injuries, ill health and deaths on individuals and their families.

\\ Recognise the importance of health and safety in difficult economic times and the dangers of complacency.

\\ Pledge to work with the Health and Safety Executive and its partners to
Be part of the solution.
