- 3.14 (Min 7.4) Winding Machine information had been sent to members. Item discharged.

4.0 RECONSTITUTION PROGRESS

- 4.1 Secretary explained that although a decision had not been reached, she was optimistic that the Committee would be reconstituted.

5.0 PROGRESS ON WORKBLOCKS

5.1 Workblock 1: Printers Packs

Mr Wallis said that BPIF continued to distribute the packs at visits to printers. He found them useful and stimulated discussion but the quality of the printing on the packs was poor. Mr Hudspith explained that AMICUS had not yet distributed their packs but that work had started on training safety representatives to deliver the packs.

5.2 Workblock 2: Manual Handling

Mr Hobson advised that the videos of good practice manual handling solutions were being tested and were due to be launched on the HSE Printing website within the week.

5.3 Workblock 3: ULDs in Printing Industry Initiative

The second year of the EMAS project was to be incorporated into the Backs! 2005 initiative to take place in June/July 2005. A minimum of 42 enforcement visits would be made to large and medium sized printers and publishers during the 4-week period. The outcomes would be analysed and a report made to the November 2005 meeting. It was agreed that the stakeholder packs which had been produced to support the Backs! Initiative would be distributed to members.

MSD – WRULD Report

Mr Bunn gave a presentation on the findings of first year of the EMAS project on Upper Limb disorders in printers. The project had found that the level of ULDs in printers was lower than in other manufacturing industries. A copy of the presentation together with a copy of Mr Bunn's draft report would be sent to members.

5.5 Workblock 4 Slips and trips

Mr Hudspith advised that he represented the TUC on HSE's Slips and trips Project Board which was planning an awareness-raising campaign in October 2005. It was agreed that PIAC would support this initiative and that the Secretary would liaise with HSE's Project Manager on PIAC's contribution to the campaign. This would include drafting a press release to publicise PIAC's campaign activities.

5.6 Workblock 5 Dermatitis and eCOSHH Essentials

Mr Hobson advised that 44 draft Control Guidance Sheets for printers had been approved by the Advisory Committee on Toxic Substances (ACTS) for publication on the eCOSHH Essentials website. The formal launch is planned to take place at the Open Meeting in November 2005. Mr Hudspith, a member of ACTS, reported that the Committee had high praise for the style and content of the control guidance sheets for printers which were to be used as a template for other industries.

Mr Hobson advised that the main theme of the Open Meeting would be 'dermatitis'.

6.0 ANY OTHER BUSINESS

6.1 Printing Industry Health and Safety Training Package

Ms Kingman reported that in the previous year only ten copies of the training package had been sold and as a consequence the Communications Directorate had asked if it could be withdrawn. The Secretary agreed to look into the suggestion that the package be made available on the website.

6.2 Use of Knives in Printing

Mr Hudspith circulated details of a selection of different safety knives with indications of how they performed in common printing tasks. He asked members to send him comments from their own experiences of different knives.

6.3 UV Protocol

The Secretary reported the German proposal to extend the UV Protocol for printing to the coatings industry to fulfill the requirement of the EC for funding of the Uvitech project. The adapted protocol was due to be signed by various EU surface coatings associations at the Hanover Exhibition on 13 April 2006. The Secretary agreed to circulate the recently received draft of the revised protocol. She asked members to send their views by 8th July 2005 on whether the Committee should continue to support the protocol, given that eCOSHH Essentials for Printers would go beyond the protocol's requirements.

6.4 Mr Machin raised a concern about the lack of consistency in HSE's campaigns. The slips and trip campaign was intended to raise awareness whereas the Backs! Campaign was to be enforcement led. Mr Hudspith suggested Mr Machin write to Elizabeth Gibby at HSE with his views.

6.5 Mr D Barker queried whether second hand machinery appearing on e-Bay was regulated. The Secretary said that she had previously been directed to poorly guarded woodworking machinery advertised for sale on e-Bay and had emailed the seller explaining the legal situation on machinery sold for use at work.
