Asbestos essentials

A task manual for building, maintenance and allied trades on non-licensed asbestos work

Arm yourself against the hidden killer

Not for nothing is asbestos called the hidden killer - large amounts of it were once used in new and refurbished buildings and often in places where you can't easily see it.

A lot of premises still contain some form of asbestos. And the danger is still there waiting for you if you're unprepared - especially if you're in construction, maintenance, refurbishment and similar work.

When asbestos materials are damaged or disturbed they can release dangerous fibres which can cause serious illness if breathed in. So no matter how routine a job may seem, make sure you know where asbestos may be hidden and what to do about it.

This new, practical guide tells you what action to take for non-licensed tasks. And it's small enough to fit into your toolbox so you can keep it with you when you're working.

Some trades likely to disturb asbestos

Anyone who works on the fabric of a building is at risk of disturbing asbestos.

This includes:

- electricians, joiners, plumbers, gas fitters, shop fitters, heating and ventilation engineers;
- labourers, roofers, plasterers, demolition workers and other workers in construction;
- phone and data engineers, alarm installers; and
- surveyors, general maintenance engineers, painters and decorators.

Designed to be taken on-site, Asbestos essentials is:

- durable and practical;
- small enough to fit in your toolbox; and
- updated and revised to include latest guidance.

It consists of a series of task sheets, with over 100 full colour photos and illustrations, which describe 'good practice' and cover the action needed to reduce exposure to an adequate level.
