Application for Extension of authorisation of a plant protection product

	Proposed use (delete as appropriate)	Comparable use (delete as appropriate)
Other relevant details (specify)

NB. Consider the rates, timings and methods of application/harvest etc. of the product on-label uses and/or other Extensions of authorisation in relation to your proposed use(s). Treatment regimes more extreme than currently approved or even different methods of application (e.g. knapsack sprayer) and harvest (e.g. hand-picking) are less likely to receive authorisation or at the least require further work or requests for further information on our part. The submission of additional data or reasoned cases to address such identified areas of risk would be helpful and is expected for applications from authorisation holders. Make sure the proposed GAP is clear particularly where split applications are required and explain in full how the product will be applied. Full details must be given or worst-case assumptions will be made.

Part E –Supporting information11 Case for ‘need’

Your case to demonstrate the ‘need’ for the proposed use by detailing the nature and scale of the problem, and why alternative methods cannot be used (you may wish to include this under separate cover, or have it submitted by a third party).

Please refer to the attached document.

12 Safety assessment cases

Safety assessment cases. Use the table in Part D to establish whether there is likely to be any increase in risk/hazard posed by your proposed use. Please reference any supporting data.

On the basis that the product was fully approved by CRD (with no changes to the use proposed under this emergency approval application) all of the necessary safety assessments have been undertaken by CRD.

13 Emergency status

Information to support emergency status, if required. Detail when the proposed Extension of authorisation is required (be specific); an estimation of the severity of the problem if the Extension of authorisation is not issued urgently (including crop losses and damage); and why these losses would be significant.

This emergency application is being made in the absence of availability of any insecticide seed treatment for the 2014-15 sowing season, to protect the winter oilseed rape crop sown in August and September 2015 from damage caused by adult cabbage stem flea beetle (and other flea beetle species) and Aphids, particularly Myzus persicae, as the key vector for the spread of Turnip Yellows Virus (TuYV).

As stated in the document referred to in Section 11 above, such damage can cause significant economic damage to winter oilseed rape crops.

14 Additional information

Any relevant application information e.g. previous assessments (include COP number if available); relevant product history; and any other descriptive or supporting information e.g. methods of application or details of crop agronomy for novel crops. This is particularly useful for novel uses.

Data to support up this application are available from a number of sources including crop surveys commissioned by NFU and additional data from Syngenta, Bayer Crop Science, IRAG, and the Rothamsted Research led Aphicide Resistance Project.

Part F– Checklist of information required to support Mutual Recognition

15 Tick the box(es) to confirm the items being submitted Click for further online guidance

A copy and translation of the EU Member State product label	<input type="checkbox"/>
A copy and translation of the EU Member State product or minor use authorisation	<input type="checkbox"/>
Evidence of support from the authorisation holder of the product concerned, and their confirmation that the formulations are the same	<input type="checkbox"/>
Evidence of the climatic and agronomic comparability (if the use to be mutually recognised from another MS)	<input type="checkbox"/>
For mutual recognition of a product authorisation – support from the authorisation holder*	<input type="checkbox"/>
For mutual recognition of a product authorisation – evidence that the use has not already been authorised in the UK*	<input type="checkbox"/>
Evidence that the product has been registered to Uniform Principles	<input type="checkbox"/>

*Such applications cannot be made by authorisation holders
