Dear Sir or Madam

'Modesto and Cruiser OSR'
Applications for Emergency Authorisation for use as seed treatment on oilseed rape

Please find enclosed two applications for Emergency Authorisation; one for the Syngenta product Cruiser OSR and the other for the Bayer product Modesto. Both applications are submitted for the same use on winter oilseed rape as a seed dressing to control cabbage stem flea beetle and for early season control of aphid that is a major vector of Turnip Yellow Virus. Both of these pests present significant and tangible risk to establishment and productivity of winter oilseed rape planted in August/September 2015.

The NFU is submitting both applications for use and asks that they are considered together. Information to support the agronomic need and emergency status of this request is provided in the attached Annex, however please contact me if further details are required on the justification for need. Letters of access will be provided by Syngenta (Cruiser OSR) and Bayer (Modesto) and any registration/data issues should be discussed with the respective companies.

I would be grateful if you could review this application as soon as feasible as seed treatment for August-September sowing commences in June. An invoice should be sent to me at the above address.

Yours faithfully,
