PREVENTING DERMATITIS IN TRAINEE HAIRDRESSERS: INTERVENTION IN FURTHER EDUCATION COLLEGES

This SIM covers FOD Operational Inspection Work in support of the Disease Reduction Programme - Skin Disease Project 2006/07 – Hairdressing & Beauty.

This intervention will run from September 2006 – March 2007 and will aim to further raise awareness of worker health and safety, with particular emphasis on contact dermatitis, within the hair & beauty industry. It will support a skincare communications campaign for hairdressers, Local Authority (LA) initiatives including awareness days for local colleges and partnership working with stakeholders and trade associations. This intervention will support and reinforce messages delivered through these initiatives and will ensure that good practice control messages are being taught and disseminated to students. Many LAs may also wish to visit further education colleges as part of this initiative, inspectors are asked to liaise with their local partnership managers to ensure that HSE and LA activities within the region are coordinated.

Version 2 amends the specialist resource allocated to this initiative and alters the timing of the proposed inspections to September 06 – March 07. In addition, the contact details have been changed.

AIM

1 The aim of this project is to:

- Raise the profile of worker health and safety, in particular work-related contact dermatitis within the hair & beauty industry.
- Support and reinforce messages delivered through other initiatives.
- Check on uptake of good practice controls;

- Ensure that colleges promulgate good practice control advice to the students and to the salons where trainees are placed for work experience.

BACKGROUND

2 This activity is part of the Skin Disease Project within HSE's Disease Reduction Programme (DRP). The DRP aims to contribute to the FIT3 ill-health reduction targets by achieving a 2.4% reduction in the incidence of chemically induced ill health. The Skin Disease Project aims to achieve a 10% reduction in the incidence of work-related contact dermatitis by 2007/8 compared with 2003/4.

3 According to HSE's statistics, work-related contact dermatitis is a considerable problem within the hairdressing industry. The problem is particularly significant amongst trainees. This is most likely because of the pattern of duties performed by trainees, which involves frequent, repetitive water exposure through 'wet work' (shampooing and rinsing hair).

4 Feedback from the industry suggests that whilst health and safety is addressed within the teaching syllabus, the emphasis is on the client rather than the worker and that there is a lack of supporting information for the colleges on what the health and safety messages and controls should be.

5 Consequently, HSE has begun an initiative to work with training providers and other relevant stakeholders to strengthen the supporting material available for colleges on the health and safety aspects of the syllabus, particularly in relation to the prevention of work-related contact dermatitis thereby allowing us to reach relatively large numbers of trainee hairdressers.

6 Other activities that have direct relevance to this initiative are:

- Research: HSE has commissioned a research project to explore the behavioural and cultural barriers to the adoption of good practice controls within the hairdressing industry;
- Environmental Health Officer visits to hairdressing salons are planned throughout 2006/2007 to ensure that health and safety messages are being promulgated within the industry;
- The Skin Disease Project will be delivering a major awareness raising campaign aimed at the hair & beauty sector in 2006/2007 to provide information and advice about preventing work-related contact dermatitis.

ACTION REQUIRED

7 Using the list of hairdressing colleges provided with this SIM, Band 6 support staff are requested to identify those colleges located within their regions and prioritise for visits on the basis of number of students enrolled on the hairdressing course (this information should be obtained through direct contact with each college).

8 Visiting staff are requested to visit colleges by appointment with either the head of the hairdressing department or a senior lecturer from the course.

9 Visits should take place between September 2006 and March 2007.

10 At each visit, inspectors are requested to: -

- Check awareness of the risk of dermatitis in hairdressers;
- Check adoption of good practice controls;
- Provide advice on good practice controls, as detailed in the Dermatitis Topic Inspection Pack, as necessary.
- Check that information and guidance on good practice controls is passed on to the students as part of the course, and reinforced in practical sessions.
- Check that colleges promulgate good practice to the salons where students are placed for work experience.

GUIDANCE

Topic Pack

11 A Dermatitis Topic Pack has been developed and is available on the Extranet (HELA website) and will shortly be available on the intranet. This will provide further details and guidance on issues to cover at the visit.

COSHH Essentials

12 Control guidance sheets for hairdressers and beauty treatments are available at:

<http://www.coshh-essentials.org.uk/assets/live/SR11.pdf>,

<http://www.coshh-essentials.org.uk/assets/live/SR12.pdf>,

<http://www.coshh-essentials.org.uk/assets/live/SR13.pdf>.

RECORDING

13 Inspection Report Forms (IRFs) should be completed as normal and the visit entered onto COIN in the usual way using the keyword 'DR Dermatitis.'

14 Examples of action plans, best practice and other noteworthy information should be forwarded to the skin disease email account (details below) as this information will be used to support the central initiative with training providers.

COMPLETION DATES

15 The intervention is to be completed by 31st March 2007.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

16 Inspectors should already be aware of HSE's general health and safety policy statement on site visits. No other specific health and safety issues are relevant.
